Museums come in different categories: there are treasure houses of world importance and small provincial museums on the other.

Every second summer, Monaco hosts a true festival of all the arts. Since 1975, Monaco has held a biennial antiques fair, which attracts all the most expensive art of private collections. Everything on sale here has to pass a tough selection procedure, and this turns the fair into a parade of top-quality world art.

The Monaco Antiques Fair is the brainchild of three towering figures from the European antiques world — Mario Bellini, Jacques Perrin, and Maurice Segoura. They based the event on a very clear concept: a limited number of participants and objects of truly exceptional quality.

Visitors have the opportunity to feast their eyes on canvases in gilded frames; graphic art by French, Italian, and Flemish masters; contemporary painting; and a great quantity of furniture, pieces of applied art, old gobelins, carpets, and some lavish sculptures.

The antiques dealers display their treasures in the Sporting d'Hiver, building in the Art Deco style. The fair is visited by up to 20,000 antiques aficionados.

What colors are the rooms in your house painted? Would it surprise you to learn that the colors around you can affect how you feel? Well, it's true, color can drastically affect your mood. So it makes sense to surround yourself with colors you like and ones that will put you into a positive frame of mind.

Red, for example, is a strong color, so too much of it in a room can be overwhelming. But, in small amounts, red is energizing and can make us feel active and excited. Red is best used outside or in a room where we spend a short amount of time each day.

Orange can make us feel enthusiastic and talkative. Extroverts usually prefer this color because it makes them feel adventurous. Orange stimulates our appetites too, so it would be perfect for the kitchen or dining room.

Yellow is an uplifting color and can make us feel cheerful and happy. However, it is a color that should be used sparingly because too much can make us feel impatient.

Blue is the color that is most universally preferred, and blue rooms instil peacefulness so it is a good choice for studies or doctors' waiting rooms. Blue can also help us feel calm and confident, but it suppresses our appetites so it's only a good choice for the kitchen if you are on a diet.

Green is often used in hospitals because of its soothing properties. It has the power to make us feel relaxed and refreshed. Therefore, don't paint a work area green because you won't get much work done. Green is a good choice for bedrooms.

White is often used in doctors' offices because it gives us an impression of cleanliness. However, it does nothing to relax us – we just feel cautious and nervous. It can also make us feel isolated and withdrawn.

Therefore, we should think carefully about our color schemes when the time comes to redecorate because different colors can affect how we feel in a number of ways. That said, though, we should rely on our taste and surround ourselves with the colors we like and feel comfortable with. Use your favourite colors to create a color scheme you know you can live with.

Architect Yury Andreev says he likes simple things and simple, ordinary food; but VILLA, the restaurant he has designed on Moscow's Myasnitskaya street, offers only refined European cuisine. He also says he does not like to travel doing so only when absolutely necessary and preferring a little evening reading, especially of architectural albums, to a change of scenery. But since the disappearance of the Soviet Union, he has spent his life travelling between two countries: Russia and Latvia. Yury is convinced that an interior decorator is simply an architect in truncated form, and for this reason never engages decorators to take part in his projects. He designed and decorated VILLA, his latest creation, from start to finish entirely on his own in the best traditions of Art Deco. The simple, but elegant furniture combined with the exotic decor; the abundance of sculpture in the interior; the beauty of line; the expressiveness of the materials; the blue, red, brown, and gold: all this is evidence of style. Add the genuine smell of money in the air and what you get is Art Deco, a style "whose main goal was the creation of prosperity and luxury in the years of the lost generation," as Soviet art critics used to write. They, of course, hated Art Deco as a class enemy — but we love it.

Colour theory

Colour theory encompasses a multitude of definitions, concepts and design applications. As an introduction, here are a few basic concepts.

A colour circle, based on red, yellow and blue, is traditional in the field of art. Sir Isaac Newton developed the first circular diagram of colours in 1666.

Primary colours – red, yellow and blue. In traditional colour theory, these are the 3 pigment colours that can not be mixed or formed by any combination of other colours. All other colours are derived from these 3 hues. Secondary colours – green, orange and purple. These are the colours formed by mixing the primary colours. Tertiary colours – yellow-orange, redorange, red-purple, blue-purple, blue-green and yellow-green. These are the colours formed by mixing one primary and one secondary colour.

Colour harmony

There are many theories for harmony. Here are some basic formulas.

- 1) A colour scheme based on analogous colours. Analogous colours are any three colours which are side by side on a 12 part colour wheel, such as yellow-green, yellow, and yelloworange. Usually one of the three colours predominates.
- 2) A colour scheme based on complementary colours. Complementary colours are any two colours which are directly opposite each other, such as red and green and red-purple and yellow-green.
- 3) A colour scheme based on nature. Nature provides a perfect departure point for colour harmony.

When you choose a colour scheme, you're also choosing a mood. Research shows that colours can have a powerful effect on your state of mind: choose the wrong colour for a room and it could make you feel depressed, sluggish, irritable or anxious every time you walk into it. To make your home work for you, it's a good idea to decide which particular feelings and activities you'd like each room to encourage, and then choose your colour schemes accordingly.

White provides a blank canvas and allows your feelings full play. Choose it, if you want to feel open to new ideas and need space to think. Avoid it, if you're feeling unsure or insecure.

Like those one-size clothes, cream fits everyone but only really suits a few. Choose it as a calm backdrop to an intense lifestyle. Avoid it, if you feel uninteresting or lacking in sparkle.

Red is a stimulating colour if you're confident and versatile, overpowering if you're not. Bright reds spell sexiness. Choose it, if you're an extrovert in all areas of life. Avoid it, if you tire easily, often feel pressured or irritable or if you suffer from claustrophobia.

Orange is impulsive and friendly. It is often chosen by fatalists who take life as it comes. Choose it if you're outgoing and want to create a sociable atmosphere. Avoid it if you're under stress.

Pink blends caring and passion, hence its romantic associations. Choose it in warm shades for the bedroom. Avoid it in cool pastel tones, if you don't want to blunt your drive and energy.

Yellow is the colour of sunshine and optimism. Yellow is the choice of those who want to compensate for a lack of control in the outside world. Choose it, if you're feeling depressed or mentally sluggish. Avoid it, if you tend to be impulsive or slapdash.

Green is extremely restful and can have a deadening effect in activity areas. Choose it, if you're introverted or bookish. Avoid it, if you're lethargic or withdrawn.

Turquoise combines a soothing effect with a great sense of renewal and energy. Choose it to promote positive relaxation and to help fight insomnia. Avoid it: hardly ever. Such a well-balanced colour can be used anywhere.

Blue appeals to conventional and conformist types. Choose it to bring relaxation and harmony, to calm a driven nature. Avoid it, if you feel passive and unambitious about life.

Violet is a spiritual and meditative colour. Paler shades indicate emotional immaturity. Choose it, if you're extrovert and to create grand impressions. Avoid it, if you're an introvert in any way.

Brown is colour of achievement, but it can be depressing if the shade is too dark. Choose it, if you're insecure, but lighten it with bright colour accents. Avoid it, if you're easily depressed.

Black is ultimate achievement colour. For those whose lives and personalities are completely formed. Choose it, if you're assured and successful or well on the way there. Avoid it, if you're low on self-confidence or anxious in any way.

Grey expresses achievement if used in darker tones. Lighter ones suggest a need to impress. Choose it in small quantities to make a confident statement. Avoid it over large areas, if you feel uninspired.

SHAPES

Active vocabulary: shape – форма metaphor – метафора, образное выражение to resemble – иметь сходство curve – кривая линия, изгиб projection – проекция etymology – этимология, происхождение слова elaborate – сложный, искусный hourglass – песочные часы cone – конус bowtie – галстук-бабочка bullet – пуля spherical – сферический mushroom – гриб pear – груша circular – круглый scarab – жук-скарабей

Many shapes have metaphorical names, i.e., their names are metaphors: these shapes are named after a most commonobject that has it. For example, "U-shape" is a shape that resembles the letter U, a bell-shaped curve has the shape of the vertical cross-section of a bell, etc.

These terms may variously refer to objects, their crosssections or projections. Some of these names are "classical terms", i.e., words of Latin or Ancient Greek etymology. Others are English language constructs (although the base words may have non-English etymology). In some disciplines, where shapes of subjects in question are a very important consideration, the shape naming may be quite elaborate, see, e.g., the taxonomy of shapes of plant leaves in botany. For example: bell-shaped curve; biconic shape, a shape in a way opposite to the hourglass: it is based on two oppositely oriented cones or truncated cones with their bases joined; bowtie shape, in two dimensions; bow shape; bullet nose, an open-ended hourglass; butterfly curve; cone (from the Greek word for « pine cone »); egg-shaped, see "oval", below; fish bladder or lens shape (the latter taking its name from the shape of the lentil seed); geoid (from Greek Ge (γη) for "Earth"), the term specifically introduced to denote the approximation of the shape of the Earth, which is approximately spherical, but not exactly so; heart shape, long been used for its varied symbolism; hourglass shape or hourglass figure, the one that resembles an hourglass; dog bone shape, an hourglass with rounded ends; Lune, from the Latin word for the Moon; mushroom shape, which became infamous as a result of the mushroom cloud; oval (from the Latin "ovum" for « egg»), a descriptive term applied to several kinds of "rounded" shapes, including the egg shape; pear shaped, in reference to the shape of a pear, i.e., a generally rounded shape, tapered towards the top and more spherical/circular at the bottom; rod, a 3dimensional, solid (filled) cylinder; scarabaeus curve, resembling a scarab.

MATERIALS & STRUCTURES

Active vocabulary:

clay – глина sand - песок wood – дерево timber – древесина rock - зд. камень synthetic - синтетический insulation – изоляция carpentry – плотничество, плотничье дело plumbing – сантехника, водопровод lumber – (US) пиломатериалы glass - стекло petroleum – нефть mud – грязь, земля soil – почва gravel – гравий straw - солома density - плотность thatch – солома, тростник plank – доска board – доска reinforced concrete – железобетон bars – брусья rod – прут, стержень alloy – сплав tin – олово chrome – хром bullet proof – пуленепробиваемый film – пленка сетепт – цемент

Building material is any material which is used for a construction purpose. Many naturally occurring substances, such as clay, sand, wood and rocks, even twigs and leaves have been used to construct buildings. Apart from naturally occurring materials, many man-made products are in use, some more and some less synthetic. Building materials can be generally categorized into two sources, natural and synthetic. Natural building materials are those that are unprocessed or minimally processed by industry, such as lumber or glass. Synthetic materials are made in industrial settings after much human manipulations, such as plastics and petroleum based paints. Both have their uses.

Fabric

Two well known types include the conical tepee and the circular yurt. It has been revived as a major construction technique with the development of tensile architecture and synthetic fabrics. Modern buildings can be made of flexible material such as fabric membranes, and supported by a system of steel cables, rigid framework or internal.

Mud and clay

The amount of each material used leads to different styles of buildings. The deciding factor is usually connected with the quality of the soil being used. Larger amounts of clay usually mean using the cob/adobe style, while low clay soil is usually associated with sod building. The other main ingredients include more or less sand/gravel and straw/grasses.

Rock

There are many types of rock throughout the world all with differing attributes that make them better or worse for particular uses. Rock is a very dense material so it gives a lot of protection too, its main draw-back as a material is its weight and awkwardness. Its energy density is also considered a big draw back, as stone is hard to keep warm without using large amounts of heating resources.

Thatch

Thatch is one of the oldest of building materials known; grassis a good insulator and easily harvested. Many African tribes have lived in homes made completely of grasses year round. In Europe, thatch roofs on homes were once prevalent but the material fell out of favour as industrialization and improved transport increased the availability of other materials. Today, though, the practice is undergoing a revival. In the Netherlands, for instance, many of new builds too have thatched roofs with special ridge tiles on top.

Wood

Wood is a product of trees, and sometimes other fibrous plants, used for construction purposes when cut or pressed into lumber and timber, such as boards, planks and similar materials. Wood can be very flexible under loads, keeping strength while bending, and is incredibly strong when compressed vertically. There are many differing qualities to the different types of wood, even among same tree species. This means specific species are better for various uses than others. And growing conditions are important for deciding quality.

Concrete

Concrete is a composite building material made from the combination of aggregate (composite) and a binder such as cement. For a concrete construction of any size, as concrete has a rather low tensile strength, it is generally strengthened using steel rods or bars (known as rebars). This strengthened concrete is then referred to as reinforced concrete. Concrete has been the predominant building material in this modern age due to its longevity, formability, and ease of transport.

Metal

Metal is used as structural framework for larger buildings such as skyscrapers, or as an external surface covering. There are many types of metals used for building. Steel is a metal alloy whose major component is iron, and is the usual choice for metal structural building materials. It is strong, flexible, and if refined well and/or treated lasts a long time. Corrosion is metal's prime enemy when it comes to longevity. The lower density and better corrosion resistance of aluminium alloys and tin sometimes overcome their greater cost. Brass was more common in the past, but is usually restricted to specific uses or specialty items today. Other metals used include titanium, chrome, gold, silver. Titanium can be used for structural purposes, but it is much more expensive than steel. Chrome, gold, and silver are used as decoration, because these materials are expensive and lack structural qualities such as tensile strength or hardness.

Glass

Glassmaking is considered an art form as well as an industrial process or material. Clear windows have been used since the invention of glass to cover small openings in a building. They provided humans with the ability to both let light into rooms while at the same time keeping inclement weather outside. Glass is generally made from mixtures of sand and silicates, in a very hot fire stove called a kiln and is very brittle. Very often additives are added to the mixture when making to produce glass with shades of colours or various characteristics (such as bullet proof glass, or light emittance).

Plastic

The term plastics covers a range of synthetic or semi-synthetic organic condensation or polymerization products that can be moulded or extruded into objects or films or fibres. Their name is derived from the fact that in their semi-liquid state they are malleable, or have the property of plasticity. Plastics vary immensely in heat tolerance, hardness, and resiliency. Combined and lightness of plastics ensures their use in almost all industrial applications today.

Cement composites

Cement bonded composites are made of hydrated cement paste that binds wood or alike particles or fibres to make pre-cast building components. Various fibrous materials including paper and fiberglass have been used as binders. Wood and natural fibres are composed of various soluble organic compounds like carbohydrates, glycosides and phenolics. These compounds are known to retard cement setting. Therefore, before using a wood in making cement boned composites, its compatibility with cement is assessed.

Carnival Spirit's interior design, celebrates world's great architectural styles. From art nouveau to postmodern to funky to Egyptian, the public rooms on the newest ship, the Carnival Spirit, celebrate a wide variety of architectural styles in their interior-design themes. As the Carnival Spirit represents a new class of "Fun Ship", its interior design reinvents the traditional central thematic idea by creating a mood of diversity through a synthesis of highly divergent décors.

"Although the central idea for this ship could be called 'noteworthy décor styles,' it's really a very abstract unifying theme," said Joe Farcus, interior architect for the "Fun Ship" fleet.

"There is a main decorative style used in each of the public rooms - Chinese in one, art deco in another, for example - however, the styles are not necessarily executed in a traditional manner, but rather are more interpretive," he added.

The Spirit Lobby and some public areas are decorated in the art deco style, which uses sleek, graceful lines and slender organic forms. The lobby houses two grand staircases, a bar with dance floor and the information and tour desks. Rich wood and antiqued copper are used extensively in the lobby, stairwells and elevator bays. Railings are a lacy cast copper, stained glass domes in the ceiling provide diffused lighting, and the walls and elevators combine wood, handmade etched plates, marble inlaid frames and embossed copper trimmings.
